5 Things I wish I knew About BYU-Idaho

It Gets Cold!

BUNDLE UP!

Rexburg, Idaho is known for its cold winters. The snow mixed with the wind makes for some pretty chill days. Don't worry, the heaters make it worth it. Plus the stunning views that accompany the snow. Definitely, don't forget your winter coat!

You Will Learn a lot About Yourself

SELF DISCOVERY

The biggest thing that comes with living on your own: self-awareness. You will learn more about what you like, don't like, new passions, cultures, and relationships. BYU-Idaho makes this even more exciting between a variety of clubs, activities, and of course, attending church with your friends.

Professors Want to be Your Friend

REACH OUT!

The professors at BYU-Idaho not only have a passion for what they teach but also a passion to connect with their students. They want to help you achieve and fulfill your potential. Don't be afraid to reach out and make connections with your teachers. They are great resources to help you become the best version of yourself.

Making Friends Is Scary, But Not As Hard As I Expected

DON'T BE SCARED

BYU-Idaho is one of the easiest places to make friends. Making connections is a huge part of the entire community. At BYU-Idaho you are surrounded by people who share the same core values and beliefs, and it makes being friends with each other so much easier.

You Can't go to Class in Pajamas

DRESS FOR SUCCESS

BYU-Idaho follows Dress and Grooming Standards that help keep the campus clean and professional. These can definitely come as bad news to some, but the overall experience is heightened just because of the clothes you wear. Yes, those leggings will have to wait until the weekend, but showing up to class in a clean outfit makes my day better and my mind more focused.

5 Things I Love About BYU-Idaho

Campus Sights

GREAT OUTDOOR SIGHTS

BYU-Idaho's campus is simply stunning. There is an abundance of green in the form of lush grass and tall evergreens. With the help of amazing faculty, staff, and students, the campus is always vibrant, especially when walking around Ricks Gardens, the Apple Orchard, or the greenhouses.

Student Support

GET HELP FROM THOSE WHO CARE

BYU-Idaho cares about its students and strives to make sure everyone reaches their true potential. Student Support is always available to help students. Your Pre-Arrival mentors help you before and during your transition to BYU-Idaho. And once you arrive, a new student mentor is available to you with Herber J. Grant mentoring.

Shared Values

LEARN AND GROW WITH OTHERS LIKE YOU

Not only does BYU-Idaho provide amazing education, but each class is also focused on the Gospel. Not only do you grow as a student, but also as a disciple of Jesus Christ. We have devotionals every Tuesday and you may even have spiritual thoughts and testimonies shared in your math, science, or English classes!

Real-World Experiences and Preparation

GET PREPARED FOR LIFE OUTSIDE OF COLLEGE

The professors at BYU-Idaho provide their students with in-depth experiences and make sure each student is prepared for their future. I personally love when my professors are able to share their own experiences in the industry.

Affordable, High-Value Education

TUTION THAT IS HARD TO BEAT

BYU-Idaho strives to provide its students with the best education, from experienced professors, at a low price point that is more accessible. I love that you are not sacrificing your education for lower-cost tuition.
